Dear Jack,

Reminder registrations close tomorrow for the Hepburn Wind ground-breaking event. To RSVP click here

Hepburn Wind is delighted to invite you to a 'ground-breaking' ceremony to celebrate the start of construction on Australia's first community-owned renewable energy project. This event will be held at the Leonards Hill wind farm site on Friday, 8 October 2010 at 11am.

A number of important supporters of the project from state and local government, business, environment groups and the local community will be in attendance. We hope you will join us in celebrating this exciting milestone, which we have only achieved because of the commitment and energy of members and supporters like you.

While the turbines are not yet built, Hepburn Wind has already blazed a trail. Our project has inspired the creation of Embark - an independent, non-profit organisation, dedicated to unlocking the full potential of the community renewable energy model and helping many more Australian communities to bring their own 'green energy' projects to fruition. On 8 October, we will also be formally launching Embark and turning our thoughts to what else empowered communities can achieve.

Further information about event day details and maps will be sent to you upon receipt of your RSVP. Please note that RSVPs are essential and must be received by Friday, 24 September 2010.

Thank you again for your support, which has helped us to take another big step forward in making Australia's first community owned wind farm a reality. We look forward to welcoming you on 8 October.
