Commissioning complete!

With all tests complete and inspections passed, on Friday we were officially handed the keys to become owner-operators of the Hepburn Community Wind Farm. We wish to acknowledge this major milestone and express our gratitude to REpower, all of their contractors and the community who have made this project possible.

Currently the turbines are capped to a maximum of 2.6 MW whilst Powercor adjusts the network to accommodate local generation. The cap is expected to be lifted in the next few weeks.

Community fund feedback

We understand very well that from little things, big things grow. Through the Hepburn Wind Community Fund, we will provide financial support to local groups that are working to build a vibrant and sustainable community.

A draft of the Fund's application guidelines are available at hepburnwind.com.au/fund. We are keen to receive feedback before 9 August – in time for our first funding round to be opened shortly after.

Did you know...

The Hepburn Community Wind Farm is the first wind farm in Australia to pay more in contributions to its community fund than it does in lease payments to the landowner.
